FOREWORD

Welcome to Anadolu University School of Foreign Languages. We hope you will feel the same pride and delight of working in this unique context as much as we do. This handbook aims to give you the basic information required about our school. If you need further support, we will always be here to help you.

Assoc. Prof. Belgin Aydın
Director,
School of Foreign Languages

1. ABOUT US

1.1 Our Mission

The mission of Anadolu University School of Foreign Languages (AUSFL) is to provide our students with the necessary skills and strategies that will help them to cope with their departmental studies conducted in English, German and French. AUSFL also aims at providing Academic English courses at different levels for the students through their university education life and various other elective foreign language courses such as Chinese, Spanish, Italian and Russian.

1.2 Our Vision

The vision of the School of Foreign Languages is to facilitate Anadolu University students’ language learning process by equipping them with the necessary skills and abilities they will use throughout their professional and social lives.

1.3 Our Aims

- Providing foreign language education through the latest approaches and contemporary technological developments,
- Helping students gain essential language skills and strategies to be able to cope with their departmental studies,
- Enabling learners to use all language skills they have gained in real life,
- Raising awareness about different cultures and broadening our learners’ vision,
- Creating an effective learning and teaching environment in the school.

1.4 Our Expectations

We believe that accomplishing our aims is not possible unless each member of the school is highly motivated to achieve a common aim of improving the quality of learning for all the students. Internalizing the school’s mission and vision with a positive attitude and a high level of dedication, adopting a constructive attitude towards students and colleagues as well as helping to foster the team spirit are the key factors for the realization of our mission. Believing that the institutional improvement and the personal improvement are inseparable from each other, we aim to help our members to further develop themselves and reach their full potential.
Carrying out duties at school including being a part of one of the units and taking responsibility in the improvement of our school, meeting deadlines, keeping records of student work, progress and attendance, being on time for meetings, and exam-related duties are expected components of an effective teaching practice.

1.5 Our Organization and Responsibilities

1.5.1 Our Organizational Structure

The following chart illustrates the organizational structure in Anadolu University School of Foreign Languages.
The Director

Anadolu University School of Foreign Languages is run by the Director. The Director is responsible for;

- creating an atmosphere for all the learners to feel secure and learn efficiently,
- creating an environment for the staff to work effectively and cooperatively,
- facilitating the unity among all the units by organizing meetings on a monthly basis with the unit coordinators,
- keeping track of records regarding the performance of the staff,
- implementing the quality improvement policy,
- coordinating between the School and the Rectorate as well as other academic and administrative units in the university.

The Assistant Director (Academic)

The role of the Assistant Directors is to support the Director in his/her work at the preparatory school. The Assistant Director who is responsible for the academic issues deals with the main educational concerns for the students in the School of Foreign Languages. Dealing with any disciplinary matters related to the students or complaints of the students is the responsibility of the Assistant Director. S/he is also responsible for the management and coordination of the following units:

- The Curriculum Unit
- The Materials Development Unit
- The Technology Unit
- The Proficiency Exam Unit
- The Student Clubs Unit

The Assistant Director (Administrative)

The role of the Assistant Directors is to support the Director in his/her work at the preparatory school. The Assistant Director who is responsible for the administrative issues deals with the main managerial concerns for the teachers and the other employees dealing with the administrative issues in the School of Foreign Languages. Assigning teachers for the exam invigilations, keeping track of the legal permissions of the teachers and the other employees, organizing and coordinating the Fulbright teachers are among the responsibilities of the Assistant Director. Erasmus and Mevlana Coordinators of the School work under the responsibility of the Assistant Director. These coordinators are responsible for the coordination of the international and national exchange programs run by the International Relations Department. Dealing with any disciplinary matters related to the teachers and the other employees is the duty of the Assistant Director. S/he is also responsible for the management and coordination of the following units:

- The Professional Development Unit
- The Project Development Unit
Departments

Basic Languages Department Head: The Head of the Basic Languages Department is responsible for the day-to-day coordination and implementation of the English, German and French preparatory programs. The effectiveness of the lessons and the make up lessons, application and the analysis of the quizzes and Midterm and the Final exams, the records of the student progress and attendance are the responsibilities of the Department Head. S/he reports to the Director of the school. S/he is responsible for the management and coordination of the following units:

- The Coordinators Unit
- The Testing Unit (quizzes, mid-term and final exams)

Modern Languages Department Head: Modern Languages Department Head is responsible for the management of the Modern Languages Unit. S/he is also responsible for organizing and carrying out the Academic English lessons given in various faculties in the university. Six levels of Academic English lessons give the university students the opportunity to learn English from A2 to B2+ levels throughout their four years of education lives in their departments. With this opportunity, not only the students in departments where the medium of education is Turkish may learn English starting from the basic level but also the students who have already taken one-year preparatory class may have a chance of improving their academic skills in English that their major requires.

The Modern Languages Department Head is also responsible for organizing and carrying out the elective foreign language courses offered to the students of all the departments. Students can learn Chinese, Spanish, Italian, Russian, French, German and English at different levels as they continue their academic studies.

The organization of the OYP (Teaching Staff Training Program) run by the Council of Higher Education (YÖK) is another responsibility of the Head of the Modern Languages. The program aims to help the academicians from different universities all around the country to improve their English proficiency in order to continue their profession.

Executive Secretary

Executive Secretary is responsible for keeping up to date with the rules and regulations regarding higher education and carrying out the correspondence related to the School of Foreign Languages. Executive is also responsible for the supervision of the administrative personnel and maintaining a collaborative, productive and organized work environment. Providing the necessary equipment and venues for educational and administrative activities and maintaining the procedures for research, publications and educational procedures are among the responsibilities of Executive Secretary.

Executive Secretary is responsible for the management and coordination of the following offices:

- Accrual Income Office dealing financial matters,
- Supply Office providing stationary to the staff,
- Purchasing Office following the necessary procedures for buying equipment,
- Maintainance Service dealing with technical problems and the computer laboratories,
- Registrar’s Office dealing with student-related issues such as class programs, attendance and grading procedures,
- Record Keeping Office archiving the documents related to exams and attendance.

1.5.2 List of Units and Their Responsibilities

The units help the efficient organization and management of the School of Foreign Languages. Each unit is responsible for a different component of this organization as explained below. The coordinator of the unit organizes weekly regular meetings for the group members and writes a report of the meeting using the format in Appendix 1. The written reports are then presented to the related Assistant Director or the Department Head. The Director meets with the unit coordinators on the first Monday of each month and records the decisions. The selection process of the coordinators of the units above is the responsibility of the relevant Assistant Director or the Department Head.

2. OUR POLICIES

2.1 Curriculum Policy

The main aim of Anadolu University School of Foreign Languages Preparatory Program’s Curriculum, which is aligned with the mission, and vision of the school, is to provide an effective language learning process for all the students. Each component of the curriculum, the syllabi, course books and materials, assessment is compatible with one another and under continuous evaluation and revision. It is explanatory to all the students and the teachers. The components of AUSFL Curriculum are as follows:

*Learning Outcomes

Global Scale of English (GSE) is used as the base in determining the outcomes of the curriculum and in preparing the syllabus of the Preparatory Program. GSE is an academic scale enriching the Common European Framework of References (CEFR) and showing student level and progress in finer progressions. That is to say, the curriculum outlines the outcomes to be achieved at different language levels with the estimated time to be allocated to achieve these outcomes and related to learning and teaching. By determining the outcomes, the test specifications, which guide not only the Testing Unit for the test preparations but also the students and teachers are also determined in the curriculum. The in-class and out-class studies are included in the curriculum as well.

*Teaching and Learning Materials

The course books, online materials and all the supplementary materials prepared by the Materials Development Unit help us to achieve our learning outcomes. The additional printed and online sources such as graded readers, videos and movies to be used at different language levels in and outside the classroom are also components of our teaching materials.

*Assessment

Each component of the assessment is determined in the curriculum in accordance with the learning objectives. In addition to the quizzes, midterm exam and the final exam, students are required to prepare an e-portfolio involving certain tasks, all of which are scheduled and specified in the curriculum. Students are given detailed guidelines about different parts of the assessment (sample questions, exam duration, criteria etc.). In-class participation is also valued as a part of the assessment.

The overall aim of Anadolu University School of Foreign Languages Preparatory Program’s Curriculum is;

a. Meeting students’ linguistic and academic needs

The aim of the curriculum is to provide adequate language knowledge and skills that are necessary for the future studies of our learners in their departments. When students finish the preparatory program, they will be able to have the necessary background and strategies to follow the lectures, understand extended texts, produce various types of written texts, and communicate by using the target language appropriately and accurately.

b. Fostering learner autonomy

We believe that learning is not and should not be limited to the classroom context. Our students should be able to continue learning outside the classroom environment and be equipped with the necessary strategies to support their learning efficiently. We aim to encourage our students to benefit from the self-access centers such as computer labs, library, TV rooms and other related materials, through which they will eventually learn how to make their own decisions regarding their academic needs. By using the online platform we expect to provide our students with opportunities to be able to interact with the native speakers and other language learners all over the world.

c. Providing individual guidance

AUSFL believes that to ensure their success in the language learning process, individual attention and support should be given to students by their academic advisors, class teachers and Psychological Counseling and Guidance Center which provides individual counseling as well as mini seminars about various topics such as study skills, exam anxiety and anger management.

2.2 Quality Improvement Policy

The Quality Improvement Policy aims to improve the quality of the educational and instructional activities at AUSFL according to the objectives below:

1. To provide a curriculum meeting students’ needs effectively and realistically,
2. To improve the standards of teaching and assessment,
3. To ensure an efficient use of printed and online learning materials,
4. To foster learner and teacher autonomy,
5. To improve the school’s management systems,
6. To enhance professional development facilities,
7. To complete the accreditation process.

In order to improve the quality of the school, the learning environment is constantly evaluated by all the stakeholders through written questionnaires, oral feedback and any comments written to the wish boxes that are placed in various parts of the building.
2.3 Assessment Policy

AUSFL is committed to developing and implementing relevant and appropriate curricula that will empower students to become autonomous learners in their academic life as the expected outcomes with their reference to the GSE are clearly stated in the syllabi used. Assessment is not a separate component of the curricula but is closely integrated in the teaching and learning process because it aims not only to promote students’ learning but also to give insights into their progress in the process. Therefore, effective assessment is crucial in order to measure whether these are achieved in curricula delivery.

The primary aim of assessment is to monitor students’ progress, provide help, support and remedial teaching in language areas that students are weak or need more guidance. Assessment also aims to provide feedback to students and teachers as well as the management regarding the implementation of the curricula and act promptly and accordingly in any problem areas if necessary.

As assessment is an ongoing and integral part of the learning process, students are given a certain number of short quizzes, required to keep portfolios and to do online studies throughout each semester, which are graded separately and have different weights in the overall score of students.

To provide a balanced and multi-dimensional assessment, students are tested in four language skills, namely reading, writing, speaking and listening. The tests are prepared by taking the test specifications into consideration and administered in-house by giving each test taker the same opportunity to demonstrate their abilities in the areas tested. The testing unit is responsible for designing tests that are bias-free, sensitive to race, gender and cultural background. The testing unit is also responsible for ensuring the standardization of the tests, providing teachers with guidelines about how to implement the tests and holding norming sessions for teachers for the assessment of productive language skills (i.e. writing and speaking tests). The testing unit is accountable for providing students with information about the nature and content of the tests before test time as well as the criteria to be used for the assessment of productive skills. The testing unit reports the test results to students accurately and on time. Since testing is a reflection of teaching, students are given opportunities to learn from their mistakes.

2.4 Cheating Policy

A zero tolerance policy is operated with regards to cheating in examinations and in any component of the assessment, including the quizzes and the portfolios. The student does not receive a grade and their record sheet is completed with a “0” (zero) for that particular assessment. There is no make-up for a student who has been caught cheating.

Before the exams, students are asked to place all of their books, notes and mobile equipment on the teacher’s desk and put all bags at the front. If invigilators spot students with unauthorized material in their possession, including any information on a part of the body, clothing, on the wall or desk, it will inevitably be assumed that cheating has taken place. After a verbal warning to the student, if the student continues cheating, the invigilator should wait for the student to finish and submit his / her paper. Not to cause any confrontation, which may lead to disturbing other students, the student’s paper will be signed by the invigilating teacher at the end of the exam, showing that the student has been caught cheating and the administration is to be informed immediately after the end of the exam. The student is also informed about the administrative process at the end of the exam.

2.5 Learner Training Policy

AUSFL aims to ensure that students are given opportunities, guidance and training in terms of study skills and techniques to develop themselves as autonomous learners.

AUSFL also places importance in raising students’ awareness about the importance of knowing a foreign language for their academic and social life, so students are encouraged to use the language effectively to communicate and express themselves in both domains by providing opportunities in and outside the classroom such as speaking clubs, movie discussions and informal meetings along with classroom activities.

2.6 Teacher Recruitment Policy

Teachers are the most important components of the AUSFL in order to achieve our educational goals effectively. Teachers who have the following characteristics can be a part of the dedicated team of AUSFL:

- Demonstrating a high level of motivation to teach a foreign language,
- Having efficient teaching skills,
- Being an effective team-member,
- Holding positive attitudes towards students, colleagues and work,
- Respecting others and their views,
- Being constructive and encouraging in their approach,
- Showing commitment to their work and personal and professional development,
- Being autonomous and motivated life-long learners themselves.

The recruitment process aims to ensure that teachers who best fit the job description and meet the requirements at AUSFL are hired. The steps that AUSFL, the Rectorate and applicants follow are:

- AUSFL informs the Rectorate about the open teaching positions.
- The Rectorate carries out the correspondence with the Higher Education Council.
- YÖK confirms the need and position.
- The post for new teachers is announced on Anadolu University’s website.
- Candidates apply for the post in person and submit the documents (CV, diploma, academic report, military service report, the score of Entrance Examination for Academic Personnel and Postgraduate Education (ALES), photographs).
- Candidates go through an interview process.
- Candidates eligible for the open teaching positions are announced on Anadolu University’s website.
• Academic Personnel Office carries out the employment procedures.
• New teachers start working for AUSFL after completing an orientation program.

2.7 Professional Development Policy

We believe that success of our program relies on effective teaching; therefore, necessary support, guidance and opportunities are given to teachers with its “open-door” policy to encourage professional development and thus maintain effective teaching and learning.

The areas that teachers need more guidance, support and training are determined through questionnaires, meetings and reflection reports. Regular meetings with the teachers focusing on weekly teaching practices and the implementation of the syllabi, meetings with individual teachers when necessary, separate meetings with the new teachers on the areas they need support are parts of our staff development policy. School-wide support is also maintained by encouraging teachers to participate in national and international workshops, seminars and conferences. Various workshops and presentations from outside consultants are also organized according to the needs of our teachers. Encouraging our teachers to do action research in their classrooms and to participate in various projects of their interests are among our staff development policy.

Procedures for attending at national and international conferences

A written petition is given by the teacher who wants to attend a conference to the Department Head (see Appendix 3).

The name/place/dates of the conference, the class make-up schedule (see Appendix 4) or the class exchange schedule (see Appendix 5), acceptance letter, payment information and the abstract of the talk or the workshop are also attached to the petition.

The Department Head organizes the make-up lessons and informs the Assistant Director,

The Directorate sends the written request to the Rectorship,

The Directorate informs the teacher of the decision of the Rectorship.

A Teacher Induction Program for new teachers is employed to support new teachers in areas such as curriculum, assessment practices and professional development in order to maintain learning and teaching effectiveness (see Appendix 6). The following induction elements for orienting all the new teachers are included in the program:

• the organizational structure of the school and school facilities,
• the school ethics and policies,
• the curricula,
• professional development and training aligned with the individual needs of the new teachers

2.8 Feedback Policy
The Feedback Policy aims to build an effective communication system with the teachers and to consider the needs of individual teachers where they need professional development. The Director meets with each teacher personally at least once a year and has a semi-structured interview about the teacher’s personal opinions considering;

• the education system in the school in general including the curriculum, the syllabi, materials, online studies and assessment,
• the extracurricular activities,
• the administrative system,
• any suggestions teachers would like to offer.

After the interview both parts, the director and the teacher, write a reflection (see Appendix 7) about their personal views of the interview. They are invited to write a reflection focusing on some open-ended personal questions. They are then expected to sign the written document and give it to the Secretary of the Director to be kept in their personal files. If there is anything teachers cannot or do not want to state directly, they are invited to write it to the wish boxes we have in our building.

2.9 Complaints Policy

AUSFL places vital importance in having a good rapport with all students and teachers and takes all the necessary steps to create a motivating and positive school and work environment. To maintain such an atmosphere at school, AUSFL gives careful consideration to all complaints by students or staff and aims to deal with them promptly in a fair, open and honest manner through communicating and sparing sufficient time and effort to solve them.

Informal complaints can be solved through conversations between people who complain and who are responsible for sorting out less serious issues, which does not require lengthy and formal procedures. At the beginning of each term, teachers set their classroom rules and explain the regulations of AUSFL regarding acceptable and unacceptable behaviors together with their consequences to students. Once they are made clear, students are expected to follow these rules and regulations. If students do not follow the rules and regulations, and an unacceptable behavior occurs, the problem is solved through communication between the parties involved. If the problematic behavior still continues, a written document by the student or the teacher is submitted to the Directorate and legal procedures as stated in the Laws and Regulations accepted by Anadolu University (http://www.anadolu.edu.tr/en/yasan-yonetmelikler) are followed.

If the students are not satisfied with their exam results, they can ask for a re-evaluation of their exams by applying with a written document to the Assistant Director (Academic) in two days after the exam results are explained. The exams are re-evaluated by a committee different from the original graders organized by the Testing or the Proficiency Exam Unit coordinators.
2.10 Decision-Making Policy

All the decisions which are in accordance with our mission and vision are transparent to all teachers and the students in our school. The ideas of every individual are valued and considered during the decision-making procedure. Students and teachers are involved in the decision-making process beginning at classroom level. Student representatives express the opinions of their own and their friends during regular meetings with the administrators and the representatives of the testing and coordinators units. All the teachers are invited to take an active role during any decisions concerning the teaching process or the organizational aspects.

3. TEACHER-RELATED ISSUES

3.1 Monitoring Student Attendance

Teachers are expected to keep an accurate record of each student’s attendance for each lesson in the day. Teachers are responsible for the security of their Attendance Record Sheets. Teachers are expected to computerize attendance on the relevant web page weekly.

Attendance cannot be used as a way of punishment; therefore, if the student has some behavior problems and does not do his homework, teachers cannot mark them as absent.

Medical reports for non-attendance are not accepted.

The class hours students have to attend for each level are announced by the Directorate to the students. Then, it is the students’ responsibility to keep track of their own number of absences.

3.2 Record-keeping

Teachers are expected to keep the following in their class files:

- Attendance records (teachers are also responsible to computerize the attendance),
- Sheets for homework and portfolio tasks,
- Up-to-date exam grades (to show the students’ academic progress),
- Lesson Plans.

3.3 Working Hours

It is essential for all the teachers to start and finish classes on time. Problems in maintaining the class hours lead to a lack of discipline and create problems for students.

In the case of a teacher’s sudden illness, the teacher is expected to inform the Department Head (222-3350580 – Extension: 6109). Medical reports should be submitted to AUSFL in three days. In unexpected situations, classes can be changed or rescheduled with the permission of the Department Head. Then, the Department Head informs the Assistant Director (Administrative). The administration keep records of absenteeism for each semester and these records are added to the staff files on a semester basis to be considered in conjunction with the results of the course evaluations.
In case of approved absences, such as conference attendance, Erasmus or Mevlana exchanges or institutional commitments, procedures are explained in the relevant session. Teachers who do not have a sick note should make up for their absenteeism. Teachers who have a sick note should also arrange make up hours for their teaching / office hours. The teacher should arrange an appropriate time for the students and announce it on the AUSFL’s website http://yabanci.anadolu.edu.tr. If the reason for absence is long-term sick leave, the Director of the AUSFL makes the necessary arrangements. Earlier mentioned procedures should be applied and the relevant supporting documents should be supplied.

4. STUDENT-RELATED ISSUES

4.1 Attendance

For the first hour in the mornings, students may be let in the classroom for a period of five minutes only for exceptional circumstances such as transportation problems. If a student is persistently late, the teacher considers it as unacceptable behavior and does not let the student in to the classroom.

Due to misbehavior or failing to meet the class requirements, a student cannot be marked absent as a form of punishment. As long as he/she is present in the classroom, he/she must be marked present. Likewise, if a student is not present in the classroom, he/she cannot be marked present upon request or as a reward.

It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of their own number of absences. Students who are absent more than the 15% of the total lesson hour are accepted as unsuccessful and repeat the same level.

Medical Reports are not accepted as an excuse for non-attendance.

4.2 Providing Course materials

Students are guided to purchase the course materials from the publishers in the first week of the semester. If there is any student who cannot afford the course material fee, s/he is invited to contact the Associate Director (Academic) with his family’s financial documents and ask for a scholarship. 5% of the students with financial problems can be provided a scholarship for the course materials.

4.3 Borrowing Books

Students can borrow any books in the School’s library. They should be reminded that the loan period is one week for all the books in the library. The loan will be renewed as long as the book has not been reserved by another person.

5. PROCEDURES IN AUSFL PREPARATORY SCHOOL

5.1 Communication

Communication about school related issues or announcements are conveyed on the web page of the school (www.anadolu.ydyo.edu.tr). It is frequently updated with new information on course contents, the academic calendar, timetables, the exam schedules and any relevant announcements. Contact information for our school and links to the necessary web pages can also be found on this page.

There is also an internal system via intranet screens for the announcements or daily issues. Notice boards in the main hall of the school are other tools used for any announcements both for the students and the teachers. For the teachers, mailing system is generally preferred, so teachers are expected to check their e-mail account frequently in order to keep up with any information.

5.2 Troubleshooting Guide

In the following section, there are a number of common procedures and steps to be taken as well as some common problems and their solutions:
Emergencies

Power Cuts

- Stop teaching and call 112
- Set students some work if possible and contact your coordinator
- If cannot do so, stop teaching and call 112

  - Contact the service personnel
- Something is broken in your class or in your office
  - Contact the maintenance person
- You need stationary
  - Contact the supply office
- You have questions about financial matters
  - Contact the Accrual Income Office (Tahakkuk) in AUSFL
  - If not solved, contact the related office in the university
- There is a fire alarm
  - Follow the Emergency Procedures in the Staff Handbook below
- If there is a security-related emergency in the building
  - Call 6039 or 7000

5.3 Emergencies

Power Cuts
In the case of a power cut during work hours, the electric generator will start in a few minutes to provide electricity for the building.

Evacuation of the Building

The alarm system works to warn the students and staff when there is an emergency such as a fire in the building. The alarm will not stop when the building needs to be evacuated. Take the following steps during such emergencies:

- Ask the students to take their belongings and follow you in single line
- Follow the emergency exit route
- Go to the car park in front of the building
- Stay in the car park until you get instruction from the officers-in-charge

First Aid

For small incidents and emergencies, go to Room A202 (the AUSFL Secretary’s Office) for the first-aid box as long as you contact with a health consultant.

6. DISCIPLINARY ISSUES

The Code of Conduct and disciplinary procedures to be followed when the code is broken can be found online at http://www.anadolu.edu.tr/tr/search/node/disiplin
